Creative Native American Beading

Southwest Gecko Pin

Saturday Jan. 6

11am-12pm

Ages 5 and up

Skill Level: Beginner

Cost - $10 per person (includes all materials) Parents are required to attend with their young children but will not be charged a fee.

Class size limited to 10, not including parents

This simple beginner project recognizes that the smallest creatures in nature have their beauty. Come bead and paint a molded plastic gecko long and a pin and the legendary creature becomes a sparkling piece of jewelry for your shoulder handbag or jacket. The technique is wire wrapping. The beads are placed on a piece of craft wire and then wrapped around the body of the gecko.

Sonora Weave Necklace

Saturday Jan. 27th

11am-1pm

Ages 9 and up

Class size limited to 6 people

Skill Level: Beginner

(must be comfortable using needle and thread)

Cost—$20 per person

(includes all materials necessary to complete project)

Bring your glasses and a cloth to work on

This beginner project is designed for people with little to no experience with seed beads. The technique is called vertical netting. The kits come in assorted colors and you are welcome to bring your own beads if you have special color preferences. The class allows enough time to learn the stitch but not everyone is expected to complete the project in class.

Open Your Heart Jewelry Set

Saturday Feb. 10

2:30 pm-4:30 pm

Skill level: Intermediate

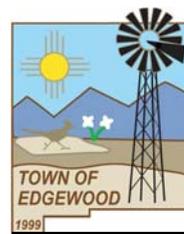

Class size limited to 8 people

Ages 9 and up. Parents are invited to attend at no extra charge

Must bring own set of needle nose and cutting pliers

$15 per person (includes materials to make necklace, bracelet and earrings, kits com in assorted colors.)

This project requires the use of tools, so it is more appropriate for older children and adults. As shown, the project uses eye pins with beads to make a chain for different types of jewelry. Extra materials available for purchase.

Educational tour & hands on activities

Feb. 17th 11 am -12:30 pm at the Tijeras Pueblo

$3 per person open to all ages, Families encouraged

Must provide your own transportation

The pueblo was initially built up in the first part of the 14th century. Tree-ring date research places the dates of overall occupation of the site from 1313 to approximately 1425 AD. There is speculation that these peoples were part of the general migration from the "four corners" The pueblo was initially built up in the first part of the 14th century to include a main structure consisting of 200 rooms, arranged in somewhat of a

U-shape. A large ceremonial kiva was constructed in the center of the pueblo. Learn more about these early peoples that survived right in our own East Mountains. Take a 30 minute guided educational walk of the archaeological site, followed by a half-hour of hands on ancient activities

Container Gardening for the Indoors

March 17 Edgewood Community Center 11 am—1 pm

Instructor: Barbara Mann Ages: 8 and up
$15 per person, includes materials

If you're looking for some green on this St. Patty's day, this is the place to get it. In this class, participants will end up with a good idea of what can grow in a mixed pot planting and will be able to pot up a garden with plants of their choice; the idea is to be able to take home a planted bowl and watch how it develops over the next few months. We can talk about how to choose planting media as well as types of plants that can go together. Other lessons learned include how to take care for a little garden.

About the Instructor: Barbara Mann is a small farmer (actually, a micro-farmer) along with her partner, who takes care of the bird flock. I handle the plant end of the business, selling lots of small plants at various farmers' markets; I grow and sell herbs, flowers and some produce at the markets, too. I also propagate somewhere around 800 varieties of bearded irises, from dwarfs to tall bearded, and people can come and see them blooming in May.

Guide: Bill Velasquez~ A steward and lover of the wilderness since 1990 Velasquez has hiked and backpacked extensively throughout New Mexico. Velasquez hopes to one day explore every corner of the Pecos. However, hardly a day goes by that Velasquez and his wife can't be found within the boundaries of the Sandia Mountains.

Travertine Waterfall
February 24 11 am - 1 pm

Guide: Stacey Boyne
Skill Level : Beginner, Family Friendly

Meet at Trail parking lot
Cost: FREE

This 1 mile roundtrip hike is a great way for everyone to enjoy the Sandia Mountains without difficulty. Enjoy a leisurely stroll through pinions, oaks, and ponderosas as the trail gradually ascends to our destination, a large cave covered in fossils. The cave, made of travertine, hosts a small waterfall in the Spring time months. With only a 300 ft elevation gain, and wide maintained trail, this hike is appealing to all ages. Bring a sack lunch or snack and water/drinks to enjoy at the cave.

Wear Weather appropriate clothing. Hike will go unless raining
